Andrew seized every moment, He lived life to the fullest. He soared through the air in a dive as he soared through his short life.

Andrew was killed in a tragic automobile accident March 13, 2011 that killed 4 students in one vehicle.

He gave us so many different things to remember his memory by.

Andrew's traits were so abundant that these are just a few.

Right your essay in 1000 words or less how you emulated any one or more of these traits.

He was a fierce competitor and his spirit of competition and perfection drove others to be their best.

His commitment to whatever team he was playing for was undeniable.

He had the ability to Captain his teammates with maturity, grounded common sense, intelligence and charisma.

He had the ability to show true compassion to those less fortunate than himself and to act on that compassion.

He had the ability to generate laughter, camaraderie and inclusiveness amongst all those he spent time with.

He had an infectious Smile that would brighten up the room.

Andrew so loved soccer that he was a NSCAA Goal trainer State certified (by age 16) and Regionally certified (by age 17). He was also a referee for Competitive, High School and the Olympic Development Program.

"We are here today to remember him, He will never be forgotten."

The winning applicant will receive $500 toward college or university.
